DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicants' election with traverse of Group II invention, (claims 2 and 5) submitted January 24, 2008 is acknowledged. In view of applicants' remarks made in their traversal and the amendments to the claims, claims 3 and 4 have been joined with elected claims 2 and 5. Accordingly, claims 2 to 5, all the claims remaining in the application (claim 1 having been canceled), have been examined.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The information disclosure statement filed June 2, 2005 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. Applicants state in the IDS that the relevancy of the cited references is set forth in the Search Report. Applicants are advised that the Examiner did not receive a copy of a Search Report with respect to the references cited in this

IDS. As indicated on the attached completed PTO Form-1449 the Examiner has considered only those references that were submitted with an English language abstract, the remaining references have been lined through.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 2 to 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Shiozaki et al. (Japan '919, Japanese Patent Document No. 02-073919, cited in the IDS submitted June 2, 2005).

Japan '919 teaches a non-oriented electrical steel sheet having a composition that overlaps the alloy composition recited in the instant claims (Abstract). Japan '919 also teaches a specific example alloy having a composition that is encompassed by the instant claims (Table 3, Alloy 5). Japan '919 teaches a method that is substantially the same as applicants' disclosed method of making the claimed non-oriented electrical steel (Abstract).

The claims and Japan '919 differ in that Japan '919 is silent with respect to the Cu precipitates recited in the applicants' claims.

However, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have considered the invention to have been obvious because the alloy taught by the reference has a composition that is encompassed by the instant claims and is made by a process which is substantially the same, if not the same as, applicants' process of making the instantly claimed alloy. In view of this, the alloy taught by the reference would be expected to possess all the same properties as recited in the instant claims, including copper precipitates, In re Best, 195 USPQ, 430 and MPEP 2112.01.

"Where the claimed and prior art products are identical or substantially identical in structure or composition, or are produced by identical or substantially identical processes, a prima facie case of either anticipation or obviousness has been established, In re Best, 195 USPQ 430, 433 (CCPA 1977). 'When the PTO shows a sound basis for believing that the products of the applicant and the prior art are the same, the applicant has the burden of showing that they are not.' In re Spada, 15 USPQ2d 655, 1658 (Fed. Cir. 1990). Therefore, the prima facie case can be rebutted by evidence showing that the prior art products do not necessarily possess the characteristics of the claimed product. In re Best, 195 USPQ 430, 433 (CCPA 1977)." see MPEP 2112.01.
